FTCC Employee Recognized as NC Community College's Staff Person of the Year

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. – April 21, 2010 – Dr. James Kelley, Fayetteville Technical Community College's Division Chair for Humanities/Social Science, was recently recognized as the North Carolina Community College System's Staff Person of the Year at a reception held at the governor's mansion on April 14. Kelley was selected to represent Fayetteville Technical Community College as the recipient of the 2009-10 President's Distinguished Staff Award designated for state competition. Prior to his current position as Division Chair, he served as FTCC's Director of Admissions.

"We are proud of the leadership Dr. Kelley demonstrates in his day-to-day work here at FTCC. His concern is always for others, and everyday at FTCC, he promotes a renewal of purpose among his co-workers, recognizing the positive influence we can make in our students' lives and always striving for excellence," said FTCC President Dr. Larry Keen.

Fayetteville Technical Community College was established in 1961 and serves over 34,000 students annually by providing 150 affordable occupational, technical, general education, college transfer, and continuing education programs to meet students' needs and desires as well as the community.
